

An email from First United Bank (security@security.com) has been received by ORO employees requesting identity verification and asking you to disclose personal information including your bank card number, the card's expiration date, the your automatic teller machine personal identification number (ATM PIN). This is a scam. Please do not share your personal information by responding to this email.