

For the past several months, our IT department has worked to upgrade the ORO Intranet. The current site uses SharePoint 2007, but the new version upgrades our system to SharePoint 2010, which contains many new tools, features and capabilities to help aid your daily interactions and responsibilities. We anticipate the transition to occur later this week.

Please be aware that the ORO Intranet will have a different look and navigation when IT transitions to the newer version this week; however, all of the tools and links you depend on will remain. Currently, our site uses significant custom coding. Unfortunately, that coding complicates upgrades to newer systems. To follow DOE regulations and improve the process for future upgrades, we are not using any special coding for the newer version. Consequently, this change does not allow us to retain the original design we currently use.

We hope to make this process as seamless as possible. If you experience any problems when you access the new ORO Intranet site, or if you have any questions, please contact the IT helpdesk at 576-2482
